

Are you looking for care for your teenager on the weekend?

Teen Weekend Respite can help you with that. Families can receive respite on Saturdays, while the teen participates in a variety of community activities and events.

Transportation is currently provided.

Activities are based on the teens preferences and interests. They go to the movies, eat out, bowl, attend local sporting events, concerts and plays. The focus is also on gaining more independence, enhancing self-esteem, and creating friendships. The teens will become more familiar with recreational resources in the New York City area.
